

Classification of Fiber Optic Cable Jumpers

Overview

According to the structure of the connector, it can be divided into: FC jumper, SC jumper, ST jumper, LC jumper, MTRJ jumper, MPO jumper, MU jumper, SMA jumper, FDDI jumper, E2000 jumper, DIN4 jumper, D4 jumper and so on. Fiber jumper cables, called fiber patch cords, are also short optical fibers equipped with connectors at both ends. These cables link the end devices to a network or join the network components in a fiber optic configuration. It is to connect the two ends of the fiber to the output of the optical fiber to the maximum amount. Fiber optic patch cords, also known as fiber optic patch cables or fiber jumpers, are indispensable components in modern optical networks. Optical fiber jumper (Optical Fiber Patch Cord / Cable) is similar to coaxial.

Optical fiber jumper classification and precautions for use

Optical fiber jumpers can be divided into common silicon-based optical fiber single-mode and multi-mode jumpers according to different transmission media, and other optical fiber jumpers

Fiber Optic Jumpers Definition and Types

Fiber optic jumpers are divided into the following three types based on the type of termination: ST-ST, SC-SC, and ST-SC. According to the type of fiber, there are two types single-mode fiber and
