

Custom-made Swiss lighting distribution boxes price

Overview

When choosing a distribution box for lighting, I understand how crucial it is to find the right fit for your projects.

Key Takeaways

The price of Swiss lighting distribution boxes varies based on customization, materials, certifications, and outlet configuration, and is typically provided via a personalized quote from the manufacturer.

- Customization Level: Swiss suppliers like GIFAS-ELECTRIC and Atex Delvalle offer fully tailored solutions, including specific dimensions, internal layouts, and control elements. The more complex the design, the higher the cost .
- Materials and Certifications: Distribution boxes can be made from stainless steel (AISI 304L or 316L), GRP, or anodized aluminum. Explosion-proof or hazardous area certifications (ATEX, IECEx, UL) increase manufacturing complexity and cost .
- Number of Outlets and Components: Boxes with more outlets, integrated DALI or 230V control, or additional expansion options (like flex7 expansion boxes) will be priced higher due to increased materials and assembly requirements .

- Installation and Delivery: Some suppliers provide optional installation, technical documentation, and visualizations, which can affect the total price . Lead times and shipping logistics, especially for Swiss or European delivery, may also influence cost .

How to Obtain a Custom Quote

- Contact the Supplier Directly: Most Swiss and European manufacturers provide personalized quotes. GIFAS-ELECTRIC encourages contacting their experts for individual advice and project-specific pricing .
- Provide Project Details: Include the number of outlets, desired materials, certifications, environmental conditions, and any special control requirements.
- Request Technical Documentation: Suppliers like Luminatore and flex7 offer visualizations and technical drawings to ensure the solution meets your specifications before finalizing the quote .

Recommended Suppliers

- GIFAS-ELECTRIC (Switzerland): Offers underfloor distributor systems, power columns, and mobile work lights with full customization .
- Atex Delvalle: Specializes in explosion-proof and hazardous area distribution boxes with stainless steel or GRP enclosures, fully configurable .
- flex7 (UK/Europe): Provides modular lighting distribution boxes with expansion options and robust anodized aluminum construction . For accurate pricing, it is best to submit a detailed inquiry to the supplier, who will provide a tailored quote based on your project requirements.
